Geoscientists of the Tirana, Albania office of DWM (a 100% Manas subsidiary) are finalizing the design of a 400 KM 2-D seismic program to refine 9 identified prospects in the Albanian fold thrust belt targeting the prolific Ionian play. An independent volumetric report by Gustavson Associates (Denver, CO) assigns P50 prospective resources of 3.030 billion barrels with 3.056 trillion cubic feet of associated gas (oil with associated gas case). Seismic lines previously acquired by Shell, Occidental Petroleum and Coparex are currently reprocessed by Denver based GeoConcept; 70% of the 350 km reprocessing program is completed. An environmental study, a pre-requisite to perform seismic exploration work, is finished by environmental consulting firm Walsh. Manas sees Albania as a key asset and presently intends to retain a 100% interest in the project whilst also evaluating further onshore opportunities in the country.

Description of the company:

Manas Petroleum Corp. is in the business of exploring for oil and gas, primarily in Central Asia and the Balkans. In particular, the company focuses on the exploration of large under-thrust light oil prospects in areas where, though there has often been shallow production, their deeper potential has yet to be evaluated. Upon discovery of sufficient reserves of oil or gas, the company intends to exploit such reserves.

The company either carries out operations directly or through a participation in a venture with a larger and more established oil and gas company to whom the projects has been farmed out. We currently have or are involved in projects in the Kyrgyz Republic, Albania, Chile and Tajikistan and are looking to undertake projects in other areas as well.

Manas Petroleum Corporation is an OTC listed company (MNAP.OB).
